POLSPOTTEN FW25 “Up”

It started with a visit to the Guangdong Museum of Art. Inspired by the high-end range of projects exhibited, we felt architecture in its raw form, should take center stage in our coming collection—casually colliding with elements from nature.

For Fall-Winter '25, we drew inspiration from sky-scrapers, and spaces across the globe, collaborating with craftsmen to create our interpretations that will give character to any room.

Think metallic objects that dare to make a statement, the High-Rise Vases and Architect Vase Series—straightforward nods to the theme, yet far from cliché. The Postmodern Lighting Table Lamps are literal highlights, while the Anish Side Table proudly shines, just as anything Anish would do.

Expect collaborations boldly built for this collection, like the Gobi Tableware Series by Studio Roderick Vos and the Formy Vases by Daphna Laurens. Expect a wooden side table carefully crafted as a 30-store building in the works, expect honeycombs, birds taking flight, and then a Pretty Pig inviting you to sit. And don't miss out on our new range of furniture featuring structured fabrics and geometric patterns, designed to make a difference.

The Fall-Winter '25 collection is a mix of the new and extraordinary, updates on bestsellers, and unorthodox blasts from our colourful past, with extra attention for glass, travertine, marbles and metal this season.

Up is about raw, unpolished beauty, quirks and stories. As Rumi - the poet - once said: ‘Only from the heart can you touch the sky.’

Have fun,
Shiran
